Ellsberg Ordered to Appear for Trial

BOSTON (UPI) — Dr. Daniel Ellsberg, who admits leaking the top secret Pentagon Papers to the press, was ordered by a federal judge Thursday to appear for trial in California on charges of illegal possession and distribution of the 47-volume study of the Vietnam war.

At a removal hearing, U.S. District Judge W. Arthur Garrity set Aug. 16 as the arraignment date for Ellsberg in Los Angeles. Garrity expressed disappointment that Ellsberg was not in court, but accepted the pledge of the chief defense attorney, Leonard B. Boudin, that Ellsberg would report as ordered.

WITH THE consent of government attorneys, Garrity continued to allow Ellsberg free on $50,000 bail.

Garrity denied two defense motions, one for a show cause order requiring U.S. Magistrate Peter W. Princi to hold a hearing to determine whether wiretapping was used to produce the indictments against Ellsberg, and the other a request for a continuance of the removal hearing.

Boudin challenged Garrity's ruling by filing a petition in the U.S. Court of Appeals asking that Garrity and Princi be ordered to conduct a hearing on the "bugging" issue. Chief Judge Bailey Aldrich took no immediate action.

"IF THE warrant is the product of illegal wiretapping, it must be suppressed," Boudin said. He said he had no evidence that illegal wiretapping was used to produce the indictments returned by a federal Grand Jury in Los Angeles, "but it is up to the government" to prove its evidence is not tainted.

Lawrence P. Cohen, assistant U.S. attorney, said the only issue was whether Ellsberg is the man named on the two-count indictment. He said the issue of wiretapping was "irrelevant" to the proceedings.

Ellsberg, 40, a senior research associate at the Center for International Studies at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, has said he released the documents because "the people have a need and a right to know the truth."

Ellsberg, a former Defense Department and State Department economist, helped prepare the Pentagon study when he worked several years ago for the Rand Corp. in Santa Monica, Calif. He surrendered to federal authorities June 28 in Boston after he was indicted.

Chinese Missiles Confirmed by U.S.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department said Thursday Red China probably had installed for the first time a few missiles with a range of 1,000 miles, which might be capable of hitting targets such as Japan, India, or the Soviet Union.

A Pentagon spokesman would not say, however, where the missiles were located or where they were aimed.

Can Green Bay Return to Greatness Under Devine Guidance?

Mustangs' Aerials Bomb Chiefs, 57-7

OSHKOSH — Madison Mustang coach Bob Moerke felt he could pass on the Manitowish Chiefs before his team's Friday night exhibition here. And he was never so right.

The Mustangs led by the accurate tosses of veteran Jerry Hackbart and rookie Terry Murawski completed 18 of 22 passes (nine each) for an overwhelming 57-7 victory at sparkling new Titan Stadium.

A crowd of 1,714 saw Jerry Schliem, Lew Ritcherson, Jim Kreicha, and James Johnson score for the Mustangs in a shocking 550-yard total offense display.

The Chiefs' only interest came in the final period as Hawaiian born Bucky Paopao scored from 13-yards out. Dewey Stendahl, the former LaCrosse State star kicker who recently joined the team after being cut by Washington, made a 30-yarder and booted six extra points.

The Mustangs wasted no time getting on the scoreboard. Their first series was stopped, but with 4:44 left in the first quarter Hackbart connected with Ritcherson on a seven-yard touchdown play. Ritcherson was a former quarterback at the University of Wisconsin several years ago.

A couple of minutes later, Schliem, the big fullback, was on the end of a 42-yard Hackbart throw and Madison was up, 13-0 after the opening period.

The second period saw the Mustangs' most extensive drive — an 87-yard march — capped by a Murawski to Kreicha pass of 25 yards. Kreicha was the leading ground gainer for Western Illinois last fall.

Brews Win Mound Duel From Royals

KANSAS CITY — Paul Splitteroff is being dogged by hard luck like no other pitcher in the American League.

The Kansas City Royals left-hander has won four and lost five since being recalled from Omaha on May 29. Four of his defeats have been a single run.

In those four one-run blickings, Splitteroff gave up only seven runs. He lost three by 2-1 and the other 1-0. He got bombed only once, a 12-3 route by the Chicago White Sox.

Splitteroff's latest scrape with hard luck came Friday night at the hands of the Milwaukee Brewers. You guessed it... the score was 2-1.

Only Monday night, he dropped a 2-1 decision to the Oakland Athletics, the runaway leaders of the AL West.

"That's a bad deal," said Splitteroff, unable to conceal his disappointment. "Still, I like to go into the ninth inning knowing we're still in the game. If I do that, then I think I've pitched well."

Splitteroff went into the ninth against the Brewers all tied up 1-1 in a tense battle with Milwaukee's Skip Lockwood, 6-7.

Tommy Harper led off the ninth with a double, only the fourth and last hit off Splitteroff. Ron Theobald's sacrifice moved Harper to third, and the Milwaukee outfielder scored on a sacrifice fly by John Briggs, who had driven in the Brewers' other run in the fourth same way.

Theobald bothered Splitteroff all night. He tripled in the fourth with one out and scored on Briggs' sacrifice fly. He singled in the first and walked in the sixth.

"I've always had trouble with Theobald," Splitteroff said. "He's the pesky type. He hits the ball where it's pitched. He's a tough hitter."

U.S. Cagers Ousted In Pan Am 'Shave'

By JERRY LISKA
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

CALI, Columbia — The United States' strong swimming forces, off to a spattering start, were expected to get a gold medal surge rolling today as Uncle Sam's humiliated basketball team packed up after being eliminated by some hanky-panky in the Pan-American Games.

The USA cage team, a crew of collegiate underclassmen, suffered the ignominy of being the country's first failure after completely dominating the sport since the PanAm Games began in 1951.

The elimination occurred with the U.S. basketball players spectators at a game in which Brazil admittedly shaved points in a 73-68 victory yesterday over Cuba.

Jerry Heard Seven Under In Classic

AKRON, Ohio — Young Jerry Heard, a high school track runner, compared his $150,000 American Golf Classic lead today to a mile run.

"I never ran the mile, but you never ran the mile, but you never could tell who was going to win by who was leading at the half," said the 24-year-old Visalia, Calif., pro, thinking of his seven-under-par 133 that paced the field by three shots after 36 holes.

Heard had his reason for a cautious approach. Despite $70,048 in 1971 winnings, he hasn't won in three years on the tour. His bulge over second-place Bob Lunn, in with 69-67-136, was the largest of the year.

The previous best after 36 holes was two strokes by Bob E. Smith in the Los Angeles Open, Charles Coody in the Nelson Classic and Arnold Palmer in the Westchester Classic.

It took a cut of 148 or better and 71 players were in the third round today over the plush, tough 7,180-yard Firestone South course.

Only seven players in the field of 103 cracked par for 36 holes, led by the remarkable Heard.

Although he had never seen or played Firestone before this week, Heard whistled, sang and hummed his way to two rounds of bogey-less golf.

"I even like to watch the birds — anything to relax. It beats worrying about what you are going to do on your next shot," said Heard.

After taking the lead from first round co-leader Mike Hill on the first hole with a birdie, Heard was in front all the way. He reeled off eight pars, birdied (Continued on 2nd Sports Page)

Veteran Linebackers to Miss Bear-Pack Opener

Phils Slow Stargell To Win, 3 to 2

By HAL BOCK
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Willie Stargell, whose major league leading 39 home runs and 101 runs batted in make him an expert on opposing pitchers, once was asked about Philadelphia's Joe Hoerner.

The big slugger frowned, and replied: "I'm 0-for-nine years against him."

Phillie Manager Frank Lucchesi won't admit it, but he must have been eavesdropping when Stargell surrendered that information. Anyway, Lucchesi figures his Stargell specialist is Hoerner and he didn't hesitate to use him Friday night.

Lucchesi lifted reliever Billy Wilson and made him a third baseman for one batter while Hoerner came on to do his thing against Stargell. Sure enough, the strategy worked. Hoerner struck out Stargell and Wilson came back to finish off the rest of the Pirates, nailing down Philadelphia's 3-2 victory.

Elsewhere in the National League Friday night, New York pounded Atlanta 9-1, Cincinnati trampled Montreal 9-1, St. Louis ripped San Francisco 12-8 and San Diego nipped Houston 4-3.

Lucchesi needed a little help to put on his strategy show and he got it from rookie Willie Montanez. The young outfielder, part of the compensation St. Louis sent to the Phillies when Curt Flood refused to report two years ago, clubbed a two-run homer in the top of the eighth inning, giving the Phils the lead.

The manager let Wilson pitch to leadoff man Roberto Clemente in the bottom of the eighth and then switched to Hoerner. "We had it all planned from the beginning of the inning," Lucchesi said. "Everybody knew what was going to happen."

Based on his past experiences with Hoerner, even Stargell might have expected the lefty. "I think," said Lucchesi, "he (Hoerner) has his number."

That number would be three—1 for each strike.

Tom Seaver took over the National League strikeout lead and fired a four-hitter, easing the Mets past Atlanta. Seaver struck out 11, running his season's total to 188, four more than Chicago's Ferguson Jenkins. It was the eighth time this season and 30th time in his career that Seaver had struck out 10 or more in a game.

Still, he wasn't completely

Still in Race

FILER, Idaho — Two Wisconsin youngsters are still in competition in the National High School Rodeo. Pace Merrill, Baraboo, has 90 points and ranks third in bullriding while Shelly Haskins, River Falls, is leading the breakaway roping with a point total of 9.1.

The top 10 contestants in each event will compete Sunday afternoon for national titles.

Carter Replaces Nitschke; Butkus Has Bad Knee

By FRED MILVERSTEDT
(Of The Capital Times Sports Staff)

MILWAUKEE — A successful college coach receives his competitive baptism in the National Football League tonight and two perennial All-Pro middle linebackers will be missing from the starting lineups when the Green Bay Packers and the Chicago Bears open their 1971 exhibition schedule in the annual Shrine charity game at Milwaukee County Stadium.

Dan Devine, who compiled a 120-40-8 record at Arizona State and Missouri before replacing Phil Bengtson last January as Packer coach and general manager, will be watching his new team for the first time under fire. Although pointing for a victory, Devine is principally concerned with taking a long, hard look at the way his 62 veterans and rookies react under pressure.

One veteran conspicuously absent from Devine's starting defense will be 34-year-old Ray Nitschke, the man selected two years ago as the NFL's All-Time middle linebacker. A three-time All-Pro and a Packer fixture for 13 years, Nitschke will be replaced by heir-apparent Jungle Jim Carter, an aggressive, 230-pound second-year man from Minnesota.

Significantly, Nitschke's Bear counterpart and old rival, Dick Butkus, will also be occupying an unaccommodated seat on the sidelines. Butkus underwent corrective knee surgery during the off-season and has been slow to mend. Word has it that the 6-3, 245-pound "Bruiser" will not be available to Coach Jim Dooley until the opening of regular season play. Lee Roy Caffey, a former Packer, is slated to fill his middle linebacker slot.

Two other ex-Packers, center Bob Hyland and cornerback Bob Jeter, will also start for the Bears. Jeter, traded to Chicago three weeks ago, should be especially eager to bang heads with his old mates. Beset by poor conditioning and personal problems, Jeter became the first Packer veteran to incur Devine's wrath.

Al Matthews, who started at right cornerback for Green Bay against Detroit in the final game of the 1970 season, is Devine's current solution to Jeter's departure. He will join Ken Ellis, Willie Wood and Doug Hart in the starting defensive backfield.

Carter will be flanked by veterans Dave Robinson and Fred Carr, considered by many to be the best outside linebackers in the league. Robinson, coming back from a crippling Achilles tendon injury he sustained in the fourth game last year, has been a frequent All-Pro while Carr was voted Most Valuable Player a year ago in the Pro Bowl.

The defensive line will include Clarence Williams and Lionel Aldridge at ends and Mike McCoy and Bob Brown at tackles.

Offensively, Devine will go with Zeke Bratkowski at quarterback backed by a running tandem of Donny Anderson and Perry Williams. At the age of 39, Bratkowski rejoins the Pack as a player after sitting out two seasons as backfield coach. He fills in for Bart Starr, languishing on the taxi squad while recovering from arm surgery.

Ken Bowman will start at center for Green Bay to test his ailing shoulder. Gale Gil-lingham and Bill Lueck are set at guards while Francis Peay and Dick Himes man the tackles. John Hilton is slated as the starting tight end, John Splitis is the wide receiver and Carroll Dale will go at flanker.

Dale Livingston and rookie Karl Kremser will divide kicking duties as Devine continues to search for an answer to a nagging Packer problem.

Withheld from action due to injuries are running backs Jim Grabowski and Larry Krause. Himes sprained an ankle in practice this week and Ellis pulled a leg muscle, but neither is expected to be impeded tonight.

Green Bay rookies who should command much of Devine's attention are defenders Donnell Smith, Charlie Hall, Virgil Robinson, and former University of Wisconsin star Jim DeLisle. Hall, a cornerback from Pittsburgh and the Packers' second draft choice, could be pressed into service if Ellis is hampered by his leg problem.

Yanks Snap Win Streak By Dobson

By BERT ROSENTHAL
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

When Pat Dobson was in the midst of a 12-game winning streak, the Baltimore right-hander was asked how many more games he thought he would win during the remainder of the 1971 season.

"All of them, the way I'm pitching," he replied.

In mid-season, when the New York Yankees plunged nine games under .500 — their lowest ebb of the season — Manager Ralph Houk insisted that his club was better than the standings indicated.

Friday night, the surging Yankees justified Houk's faith in them, climbing over the .500 mark for the first time this season, by routing Dobson and the Orioles 12-3.

"This game reminded me of the good old days," said Houk in reference to years ago when the Yankees used to dominate the American League, winning 29 pennants and 20 world championships from 1921 to 1964.

"I was just lousy," said the disappointed Dobson after watching his strings of 12 straight victories and nine consecutive complete games end as the Yankees rolled to their fifth win in a row and hiked their record to 57-56.

Elsewhere in the American League, Detroit blanked Boston 2-0; Milwaukee edged Kansas City 2-1; Washington trounced Cleveland 7-3; Chicago stopped Oakland 7-0; and California defeated Minnesota 2-0.

Dobson, after being tagged for six hits and six runs in 3-2 innings, said, "I didn't have my rhythm. Nothing seemed to work. I tried switching from a fastball to a curve, then from a curve to a fast ball, but I couldn't do anything right."

It was his first setback since June 12, when he was beaten 7-3 by Chicago. It was his first incomplete game since June 25, when he was removed for a pinch hitter in the ninth inning during a 7-3 Baltimore victory over Boston. And the nine-run margin was the worst beating the Orioles have absorbed this season.

Baltimore Manager Earl Weaver was philosophical about the drubbing. "You've got to have those kind of games sometimes," he said.

Despite the loss, Dobson has a 15-5 record, and is the biggest winner on the talented Oriole pitching staff.

And despite the loss, the Orioles retained their 4½-game lead over Boston in the AL East.

Meanwhile, the Yanks' victory — their 10th in 15 games — pulled the fourth-place New Yorkers within 12 games of the Orioles.

All-Star center fielder Bobby Murcer, the league's second leading batter, paced the Yanks' assault against Dobson and two relievers with three hits, including a three-run homer, boosting his average to .339.

Murcer triggered a five-run uprising in the fourth inning with a single. Ron Blomberg.

Girl caddy Mary Fox sports hot pants and a cool hat.

Mary Tries Caddying

Golfers Love Women's Lib

By MONTE McCORMICK
State Journal Sports Writer

Women's lib has moved into Maple Bluff Country Club, and the golfers are happy about it.

The reason is Mary Fox, 17, of 245 Segoe Rd.

MISS FOX was the first girl to make it as a caddy at Maple Bluff, but she's already got company. She rose quickly — in 10 caddying jobs — to an A rating, just below the Honor rating, which takes both time and talent.

Maple Bluff, short on caddies, ran an ad in the paper three weeks ago and Miss Fox became the first of eight girls to apply. She didn't have impressive credentials, had been on a golf course only a couple of times, and had little knowledge of the sport. What she did have was alertness, eagerness, quickness, and a wonderful attitude.

Caddy master Bob Croucher said she was "just super. She's extremely fast and alert and has a tremendous attitude."

Club pro Carl Conrad, after putting her through his caddy program, said, "The reaction from members has been just wonderful. She had been given an excellent rating on all but one of her 10 jobs. She's quick and eager to learn."

MARY JUMPED from provisional through B to an A rating in no time, and the ratings were determined on reports given by each club member she caddies for.

The oldest of the five girl caddies is Pat Fahrenkrug, 18, a University of Wisconsin student from Neenah, who caddies on weekends and is also highly rated. Three younger girls now ready for work are Kristi Birkle, 14, of 1406 Arrowhead Dr.; Patty Borman, 13, of 531 Par-well Dr.; and Mary Kay Wilcox, 14, of 1934 Melrose St.

Miss Fox is a June graduate of Madison West High School. She made it in three years, taking correspondence courses to complete her requisites. She plans to enroll at Wisconsin this fall and has goals of an accounting major and then Law school.

SHE IS the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ron Fox. Mr. Fox is principal of Orchard Ridge School.

Probably the only thing the girls miss out on as caddies is possible membership in the Evans Scholars, a college fraternity open only to caddies.

The Evans Scholar program, which furnishes tuition, room, and books to students, is one reason Conrad is proud of his caddy program.

Conrad, as a member of the Par Club, donates at least $100 to the Evans Scholarship Assn. each year. Bill Walrath, president of the country club, is a past director and strong advocate of the Evans Scholars.

THE UNIVERSITY of Wisconsin chapter had 88 members last year.

Maple Bluff has about 20 members in the Par Club, which furnishes about 40 percent of the costs for the scholars.

But it's not a completely free ride. "Our caddies are independent contractors — they should get 40 to 50 jobs a summer," Conrad said.

He then pointed out why members rated caddies: the fee starts at $3 for beginners and goes to $3.50 for the top-rated. "Then, there is the tip, and that depends much on the caddy. It can be $1.50 or more," said Conrad.

THE EVANS fund is supported by every member at Maple Bluff and members who use caddies contribute 50 cents to a club fund each round. Late in August the club holds a picnic and a caddy tournament. The top-rated caddies for the season also get a bonus that may range as much as $100 for first place.

"If a caddy goes out five times and doesn't score at least 10 points, he is deleted. But that rarely happens," Conrad said, explaining how the club encourages the caddy program.

"We have a rule that any foursome teeing off must have at least one caddy. The club also is thinking of raising the rates, too," he added.

The top-rated caddy and the caddy champion and their parents are guests of the club at its annual Awards Dinner, usually in October.

Both Mary and Larry Olson keep their heads down.

Heard Keeps Lead at 8 Under

AKRON, O. — Young Jerry Heard, blistering the treacherous Firestone South Course at a record pace, fired a third straight sub-par round Saturday, a two-under-par 68, for a 54-hole total of 201 to lead the $150,000 American Golf Classic.

The 24-year-old Californian, hitting only two bogies in three rounds in his first try at the par 70, 7,180-yard layout, was five strokes ahead of Gay Brewer and Dale Douglass of Golden, Colo.

BREWER SHOT the day's best round, a 67, moving him into a deadlock for second place at 206 with Douglass, who came in with a 69.

Heard, without a victory in three years on the tour, but winner of $70,048 this season, shot rounds of 67-68-67 to break the 54-hole mark of 203 shared by Ray Floyd, Bobby Mitchell and Jack Nicklaus.

If the whistling humming Heard keeps his pace, he not only is in position to win the $30,000 first prize, but has a shot at the widest victory margin of the year.

NICKLAUS, CURRENT PGA champion, charged in with a 69 and moved into a tie for fourth place at even par 210 with Fred Marti of Baytown, Tex., and Steve Reid of St. Louis. Reid also had a 69 and Marti a 72.

Arnold Palmer, a two-time winner of the Classic who is seeking his fifth tour victory this season, scrambled to a 72 and was 14 shots off Heard's blistering pace at 215.
