West Side Legion Had Stroll to State

By DON LINDSTROM State Journal Sports Writer

Ray Clausen has reason to be a "little excited" about his Madison West Side Legion

West Side has a 10-game victory string after struggling early this season, and last weekend gained a measure of revenge from always-troublesome La Crosse by rolling through the Middleton regional tournament, West Side became the first team to earn a berth in the State Legion Tournament opening Aug. 8 in Delavan.

"GOSH, IT'S good to be back in the State tournament," said Clausen, whose 11 years of coaching have produced a 230-88 overall record and a 1967 state champion with West Side.

DAVE BRYANT

"It's the first time since 1969 and has seemed like forever," he added. "La Crosse knocked us out in 1970 and 1971, and Lake Mills did it last year.

"But this team has really come along and I'm so pleased. When we started we struggled. We were always in pitching. West Side won its scenic Legion league championship with a 10-2 record, losing many by one-run margins.

During the last three weeks

we hit well and our defense

improved. We've had the good

"WE'VE PLAYED some

them in the tournament," he added. "You've got to have the games, but we lost so five games of the regular sea- to come back off the wall. It's son and then toppled Sloughton, 24-0; Madison Post 57. 3-2; Middleton, 16-3; and La Crosse twice, 3-1 and 6-2, to win the regional title.

> "Our turn-around came, I believe, on July 12 when we lost twice to Beloit," added Clausen. "We hit (Bob) Jeffers and (Tony) Brizzolara for 23 hits in those two games. Then we beat Post 57 with a patched-up lineup on July 13, with Mike Stansell pitching the whole game. We had several boys out with injuries and only had 10 in uniform.

"WE FIGURED if we could hit the two Beloit pitchers that well and could with a bunch out of position like that, we could beat anyone.

"Fortunately in the tournament, we didn't lose and have easier on the pitchers." Clausen had seven players returning off last year's team, and added eight more, mostly from the Madison West and Edgewood High School teams. "The Little League experience that many of these boys had was a definite help, plus we had tournament experience in high school by both West and Edgewood players,"

CLAUSEN'S NO. 1 pitcher is Crusader Carl (Butch) Maglio (7-2), but he also has veteran Nick Cochems (4-3), Tom Wojta (4-0), Gene Matera (1-2), Stansell (2-0), and Chris Goodrich. He lost Brad Ryan, another West hurler. with a sore arm after he victories to an eight-game Tiger winning streak .

"WHEN WE first talked about this (the Chinese aviator), it was all in jest," he said. "I think Milwaukee is a hell of a club." And Martin had enough class to back up his words of jest, sitting himself down near home plate as a long motley parade of goggled, mustachioed, and slanteyed youngsters, paraded by, some carrying paper-mache airplanes.

"I'll do anything to help a town like Milwaukee with baseball," Martin said. "I know these people. I've spent a lot of years in the Midwest.'

And while the Brewers appreciated it, they are not li kely to need help much longer. In a way, Wednesday's promotion was an anachronism, for the Brewers have long since proved they belong in the league.

"I never said you weren't contenders," said Martin. "When all this started, it was our first series with Milwaukee. I didn't realize the team was that good.

"FROM WHAT I've seen, anything can happen in our division. The Brewers shouldn't get down. We were seven games behind and now we're right back in it."

Although Skip Lockwood was not able to complete the game and Rodriguez took the loss, both pitched well enough to indicate the team may be strong enough on the mound to make some kind of impression on the race. Lockwood went seven innings but walked Ed Brinkman and gave up a hit to Jim Northrup to lead off the eighth.

Two outs later Rodriguez walked in the tying run.

"Rodriguez comes to pitch," complimented Brown. 'You know what I like about him? He works fast; you don't have time to screw around up

Stanley, the other fluke hit artist, also had good words.

"HE HAD ME fooled," the Tiger outfielder admitted while talking about the pitch he hit. "I had to throw the bat at the ball to try to get something on it, and I hit it."

The Brewers came within a hit of tying the game in the bottom of the ninth when Johnny Briggs led off with a single and was promptly sacrificed to second by Ellie Rodriguez. Tim Johnson and pinch-hitter Joe Lahoud each grounded out to end the game.

Brewer first baseman George Scott had another good day of hitting, raising his average to .300 with a second-inning homer and two sin-The Brewers, who close the

Teamster Aide Faces Vote Charge

By MAUREEN SANTINI Of The State Journal Staff

The secretary of a Teamster-sponsored political group in Milwaukee was charged Friday with failing to report a $1,000 contribution to the State Republican Party in 1972.

Charged was Clifford Eils, secretary-treasurer of the Greater Milwaukee Democratic-Republican Independent Voter Education (DRIVE), a non-profit group sponsored by the International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

THE CRIMINAL complaint and summons was filed in Dane County Court by Dist. Atty. H. J. (Jerry) Lynch, and is the result of an investigation into alleged violations of the Corrupt Practices Act.

Eils was ordered to make an initial court appearance The complaint alleges DRIVE made a $1,000 contribution to the Republican Party on Aug. 31, 1972, but failed to report it to the secretary of state. The contribution was included in the financial statement the Republican Party filed, however, the complaint states.

ACCORDING TO the complaint, any association, comlitical party is required to file a statement with the secretary of state.

Although DRIVE did not mention the alleged $1,000 contribution, it did notify the secretary of state of other contributions it made to political candidates, the complaint

Asst. Dist. Atty. Dan Mathews said Friday that the investigation into irregularities in the filing of expense statements is continuing. He said that in the case of DRIVE, it is unclear whether the charge is a misdemeanor or felony.

month and a year in jail; and for a felony it is between one and three years in prison and a fine of between $25 and $1,000.

In a letter to the secretary of state Eils wrote Nov. 13, 1972, hes tated that the organization is not one which endorsed or opposed any political party or candidate and thus is not necessarily under legal obligation to file a list of its financial contributions.

The letter, however, included a list of candidates to which DRIVE had made financial contributions (omitting the alleged $1,000 to the Republican Party).

Volunteers to serve with the National Ski Patrol on Madison area ski hills are now being sought, according to the pap test as a cancer Jeff Frye, 4358 De Volis Parkway, a patrol spokesman.

Patrol members must be over 16, average to strong skiers, and have completed a Red Cross advanced first aid course, Frye said. Interested skiers who do not have first aid training should contact the American Red Cross immediately, he said, since a new advanced class will begin soon.

The Madison Ski Patrol members serve at Blackhawk, Cascade, Devil's Head, Oak Ridge, Wintergreen, Timber-line, and Tyrol Basin ski areas, Frye said.

Anyone interested, he. added, should contact him by mail or phone at 271-8610 after 5 p.m.

Residents Sue Buick for Polluting Plant

FLINT, Mich. (#) - Eight Flint residents have filed a $25.7-million suit against the General Motors Corp. charging that a Buick plant is polluting their neighborhood.

The class-action suit names Buick plant officials, two city officials, and one state official as defendants.

An attorney representing the complaintants said the suit was an outgrowth of an unsuccessful two-year fight against construction of a steam generator at the plant.

The eight complaintants are seeking $125,000 damages each plus $1,500 for each of the about 1,500 families and 81 businesses in the predominantly black neighborhood. Buick spokesmen said they had not been served with a copy of the suit and declined immediate comment.

Welfare Aid Seen Cutting County Tax

Dane County's property tax levy for 1974 probably will be reduced by $4.1-billion by provisions of the new state budget bill, County Executive George F. Reinke said Fri-

Most of the tax relief will come from state takeover of welfare costs, Reinke told the West-Towne-Middleton Rotary Club.

UNDER THE budget bill, signed Thursday by Gov. Palrick J. Lucey, the state will take over Dane County's share of welfare assistance to the aged, blind, and disabled on Jan. 1.

That will result in a saving of $854,000, based on 1973 county appropriations, Reinke

The state also will assume responsibility for the medical costs now paid by the county on aid to dependent children, old age, disabled and blind assistance programs. Savings to the county will be about $2.7million, Reinke said.

THE OTHER savings will come under a provision ending the requirement that the county appropriate $350 per elementary school teacher as a common school levy. That will delete about $600,000 from the county budget, Reinke

The $4.1-million in property tax reductions a mounts to about 9 per cent of the county's:$46-million budget for

The state also may pick up part of the costs of operating the county's mental health clinic, Reinke said, although that has not been clearly spelled out.

THE COUNTY will benefit even more in 1975, he said, when the state takes over the county's share of aid for dependent children and administrative costs, which combined amount to another $3.3-million, Reinke said. Reinke said state takeover of welfare costs was "the biggest thing we got" in the budget. "It will take away a department (Social Services) over which we had little control," he said. "It will permit us to have more control of our budget." The budget also sets a ceiling on the amount of increase for county tax levies, tying in on a percentage basis to the amount of statewide growth in assessed valuation.

Reinke said he would ask the Dept. of Revenue to rule specifically on how much Dane County's levy can increase for 1974, considering growth of the county, possible Takeover of Madison Municipal Airport, and the fact that federal revenue sharing for two years was used to greatly reduce the 1973 county levy.

AMC Matador Wins Good Press Reviews

BURLINGTON - The American Motors (AMC) Matador model won an enthusiastic response from a critical audience - more than 100 automobile writers from the United States and Canada — at a preview of 1974 models at the company's proving grounds near here.

The 1974 Matador, which was termed low, sleek, and slippery, features a long hood, sloping rear deck and roof line, and is several inches lower and 4 inches shorter than other

THREE VERSIONS of the new Matador coupe are offered, a standard model, a sporty V-8 powered "X" model, and the premium Brougham. All could be listed in the lower intermediate price class.

You will see the 1974 American Motors line Sept. 5, even before some other manufacturers' lines go on public display.

The AMC line for 1974 includes 14 models, one more than the 1973 line. All have had a "face lifting", usually including new grille, bumpers, and dashboard. The Gremlin has a muchimproved looking rear end.

A quiet insulation package is featured on the Gremlin, Hornet, Matador, and Ambassador models.

He said the nation's fourth-largest auto firm will wind up the current production year with a total output of 380,000 cars, and said its goal continues to be 500,000.

HE SAID THE FIRM is "well along in recording one of the best fiscal years in history," earning $40.5-million after taxes through nine months on record sales of $1.4-billion.

The firm couldn't build enough Gremlins and Hornets to meet demands in recent months, and at auto auctions a used Gremlin is selling for more than the dealer price for a new

Library Offers Children Chance to Check Out Pets

LOS ALAMITOS. Calif. (P)-Children who want to try out a pet for a short time can borrow one for a week from a library

All it takes is a library card to check out a rabbit, chameleon, guinea pig, hamster, turtle, or rat. IN ALL, there are 20 pets available for loan, kept in cages in the children's section of the Los Alamitos Rossmoor Library. "We've got a waiting list of 26 for our rabbit, Honey Bunny, and most of the animals are out most of the time," says Joyce Kearns, children's section director.

Mrs. Kearns decided last spring to feature "creatures" for summer reading. Hearing of a similar lending program in Erie, Pa., she contacted the principal of a nearby elementary school in the Orange County community and got permission to keep the school's animals at the li-
