Pallin is just over 6-2 and 193 pounds. He is muscular. His 1971 Fond du Lac golf team was the stafe high school champion. And he was the State Amateur junior champion in Lohmiller finished third, three strokes behind the leaders. He did what he had said he would do, playing nice steady golf all day. But he had a little letup at the end - the bogey at the 16th, a par on the easy 17th and a bogey at the 18th.

Warren Dailey charged with a final-day 70 and got fourth place at 288. Niles Bakke faltered a bit and had to settle for tie for seventh. John Aehl of Nakoma had a 73 and a tie for ninth.

The first act of the final-day drama was materializes, might be think of a golfing long - 16 holes - and cannot be detailed Radder at this point. On the second nine, Lohmiller stayed with Pallin for seven holes. Radder never led till he tied at the end.

Radder missed a five-foot birdie put at No. 16 - but you couldn't ask for more drama than he gave it on the last two holes.

However, the victory was Pallin's, and the state has a new golf star.

Last year's stars. Archie Dadian of South Milwaukee and Mark Bemowski of Milwaukee, finished down and out. Dadian finally broke par for the final day, shooting a 70 and ending up at 298. Bemowski had still another misérable round, a 76, and ended

Mendenhall Wins Suit

OAKLAND (AP) - Former Oakland Raiders special team captain Terry Mendenhall won a $91,500 settlement Thursday in a suit against the football team, a general manager and a team physician.

He said he was given pep pills which caused him to suffer a permanent knee injury... In three separate decisions, the five-man, seven-woman Alameda County Superior Court jury found Raiders' team physician Dr. Graham Reedy liable for having furnished Mendenhall amphetamines that caused him "to play. violently" in an Oct. 1, 1972, football game against the San Diego Chargers in which he permanently injured his knee. The jury also found Dr. Reedy, the Oakland Raiders organization and Raiders general managing partner Al Davis, liable for havdenhall's injury when he was traded to the St. Louis Cardinals in 1973, and the Raiders organization guilty of breach of contract.

In the only other American League game Thursday, the Minnesota Twins beat the Kansas City Royals, 7-2.

Team captain Carl Yastrzemski drove in two runs, including the tying tally in the eighth inning, in the first game against Detroit.

Then he walked, sprinted all the way to third on a tapper and scored for Boston's second run in the fourth inning of the nightcap. In the sixth, he delivered a key single and scored in a three-run inning.

Phil Roof hit a three-run homer in the fourth inning and Eric Soderholm and Tony Olivasmashed solo homers, powering Minnesota past Kansas City.

Verdin New Memorial Coach

Al Verdin was appointed varsity basketball coach at Madison Memorial High School Friday

In an afternoon press conference, Principal Richard Schaefer and Athletic Director Bill Olson anmounced the appointment. Verdin, at 27, is the youngest head coach in the Madison school system.

The Madison Central and University of Wisconsin graduate succeeds veteran Madison coach Robert (Boomer) Harris who resigned last December, citing ill health as the reason.

"I'm very excited about this opportunity," said Verdin, who is only the third Memorial basketball since the school opened in 1966. "It's a tremendous chance. The greatest thing about this is that Mr. Schnefer and Mr. Olson feel confident in my ability. I sincerely hope that I can build this program to the level

Verdin inherits a team and a program that can only get better. Last year's squad went bankrupt with a 0-19

The nine-year mark for the school is 55-115, "I'm not much for making predictions. I plan no drastic changes," Verdin said, adding that he would stick to basies and maybe add the fast break and changing defenses to the team's style.

"We have some shooting ability and stronger depth for next season; and if we can make the transition I feel confident of a much improved record."

Verdin, a lifetime resident of Madison, participated in three sports at Central High School. He was an All-City selection in football and baseball and played on a Big Eight Conference baseball team. In basketball he was starting guard on a regional tournament champion, led by former Badger star Joe Franklin.

A physical education major with a minor in social studies, Verdin graduated from UW with honors in 1970. He was offered a Rhodes scholarship. He began coaching professionally while still in college, working part-time at Memorial in football and After graduation he was freshman football coach at Gompers elementary school here. Then in 1971, he joined the staff at LaFollette High School as assistant football, basketball and baseball coach. He is currently working toward his Masters degree at UW. Verdin, his wife Bonnie and daughters, Nicole, 3, and Michelle, 11/2, reside at 541 S. Segoe Rd.

"The actions of Mr. Rozelle and Mr. Ford confirm the inability of some of the leaders in professional football to properly. delegate their awesome economic responsibility," Masry said.

Rozelle said the Lions instead would receive the Rams' first round draft choice, which has been the compensation set by Rozelie in all but one instance in which he has been forced to use the controversial Rozelle Rule.

The rule, a source of controversy among players and NFL executives and the point of contention of three law suits, gives Rozelle the right to set compensation for a club losing a free agent if compensation cannot be determined by the clubs in-

Rozelle indicated one reason he backed off the Bryant decision was the court case in Minneapolis, Minn., which has been completed and now awaits a decision.

Rozelle said Defroit Lions' officials had "informed us that they no longer have an interest in acquiring Bryant's services."

Detroit owner Ford, in a bitter letter to Los Angeles owner Carroll Resembloom, said the Rams' owner "has done more to harm professional football than anyone in the history of the National Football League.
