squeeze for pitchers, being forced to send out spot starter Paul Mitchell for the ailing Moose Haas. Mitchell pitched two perfect innings and then did not see the end of the third after two singles, a double by Dauer and a home run by Singleton made it 4-1.

Flanagan left an inning later when Sal Bando hit a two-run homer for Milwaukee and Robin Yount and Buck Martinez followed with singles. But Stewart came on to throw the double-play ball and shut off the Brewer hitting.

"We're just going hot," said Murray. "We've been playing good ball for a whole season now. We've been playing good for some time and we want to keep it up."
