Royals' Brett signs five-year pact

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) -All-star third baseman George Brett has quietly signed a five-year contract with the Kansas City Royals that will boost his salary to $1 million a year, the Associated Press has learned.

Brett and the Royal General Manager Joe Burke declined to comment on the contract. However, sources said the agreement also will tack $250,000 onto each of the two remaining years of Brett's current contract.

The contract reportedly calls for a salary of $900,000 a year in 1983 through 1987, when Brett will be 34 years old, the AP learned.

Knicks to get Sonics' No. 1 pick

NEW YORK (AP) - The New York Knicks were given Seattle's No. 1 pick in next year's National Basketball Association draft Friday as Commissioner Lawrence O'Brien modified compensation he had ordered for the Knicks signing center Marvin Webster from the Super-

O'Brien said the Knicks had the choice of either taking the Sonics' first-round selection or $275,000, and gave them until Tuesday to decide. The Knicks have strongly indicated that they preferred a firstround pick to cash in any compensation settlement.

Conner continues to rule trials

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — Dennis Conner continued his mastery of the America's Cup trials Friday, sweeping three second-rac races from defending champion Ted Turner's yacht Courageous.

The sweep gave the 37-year-old San Diego skipper 22 victories of his 24 trial races aboard Freedom.

The New York Yacht club will hold a third series of trials in August before deciding which twelve should defend the Cup against a foreign challenger in the September finals races.

Gottfried advances to semifinals

WASHINGTON (AP) - Brian Gottfried, continuing his summer comeback, advanced Friday to the semifinals of a $175,000 men's tennis tournament with a 7-5, 6-4 victory over Zeljko Franulovic of Yugo-

Italy's Corrado Barazzutti also reached the semifinals with a 5-2 victory over Pascal Portes, who defaulted because of a blistered foot. Portes had eliminated the top-seeded Jimmy Connors Thursday.

Argentina's Jose-Luis Clerc advanced to the semifinals, defeating Ricardo Ycaza of Ecuador, 6-2, 6-2. In the evening quarterfinal match, third-seeded Gene Mayer, the highest-seeded player left in the tournament, breezed past Paraguayan Victor Pecci, 6-0, 6-3.

The Milwaukee Brewers have invited eight of the 11 Cuban refugees from the Fort McCoy processing center, which were among baseball players who took part in a tryout camp in Madison Thursday, to another which will be held Aug. 5 at Milwaukee County Stadium. Scouting executive Bruce Mano declined to name them. "We hate to do the work for 25 other organizations," he said. . . . Rodolfo Gonzalez of Mexico City and Herman Montes of Pico Rivera, Calif., will fight today at the Sports Arena in Los Angeles in half of a double-elimination bout to determine the next foe for Scotchman Jim Watt's World Boxing Council lightweight title. The other elimination bout will be held Sunday in Omaha, Neb., between Sean O'Grady of Oklahoma City and Gonzalo Montellano of Rosita, Calif. . . . District Judge Phillip Baiamonte on Friday dismissed 12 counts of a state grand jury indictment, involving falsifying public vouchers, against former University of New Mexico basketball Coach Norm Ellenberger.

Simons hits 'slump' but keeps GHO lead

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. (AP) -Jim Simons was disappointed with his one-under-par 70 Friday at the Greater Hartford Open, but it was good enough to keep him in first place after two rounds of the $300,000 tournament at 10-under 132.

"I'm disappointed somewhat," the 30-year-old Simons said after his round. "I thought I'd score better than I did. I would have been pleased with a Simons' disappointment with his round was due largely to the fact that he was coming off a record-tying opening round. He shot a nine-under 62 to tie the first-round record at the 6,534-yard Wethersfield Country Club course, set last year by George Cadle.

Simons wasn't the only disappointed golfer, however. Lee Trevino. the 1972 Hartford Open champion, bogeyed his final hole when he missed a three-foot putt and fell out of a tie with Simons.

Trevino finished the round with 68 to go to 133 and a tie with John Fought, Bob Murphy and Calvin Peete.

JERICHO, N.Y.(AP) - Sally Lit- her second consecutive 70. tle, winner of the Ladies Professional Golf Association title earlier this year, shot a one-under-par 71 Friday to share the lead with Patty Hayes at 140 after 36 holes of the $125,000 tournament at Meadow Brook Club.

Little carded five birdies en route to a 31 on the front nine of the par-72, 6,347-yard course. She struggled the second nine with a double bogey and two bogies for a 40. She posted a 69 on Thursday and shared the openinground lead with Judy Stanger.

Hayes, who has never led after any round in any previous tournament since joining the LPGA in 1974, shot Stanger fell apart with a sevenover-par 79 and is eight strokes behind the co-leaders at 148.

Olympic hockey star Bobby Suter slammed a two-run homer and teammate Tom Williams added another shot in the 11th inning to give Steven's Cocktails an 8-5 Apache League victory over Nelson Construction Friday night in city fast-pitch softball.

In another men's fast-pitch game, Dave Van Able threw a four-hitter, striking out nine batters to pace Villa Tap past Off the Wagon, 8-4, giving Villa Tap the second round Arapahoe League title. Tim Corcoran led the victors at the plate with four RBIs and two hits in three times at bat.

Stanford golfer wins Western Junior title

WATERLOO, Iowa (AP) - Joanne Pacillo, Stanford, Calif., captured the Women's Western Golf Association Junior Tournament Friday, defeating Laurie Rinker, Port St. Lucie, Fla., 2-up, in the final 18-hole match.

The 17-year-old Pacillo is the No. 2 player on the Stanford University golf team. She is a pre-med student who will be a sophomore in the fall.

The tournament started with 32 players at Sunnyside Country Club on Monday and had been reduced to the final two after Thursday's play.

Chicago Native wins Arlington Park race

ARLINGTON PARK, III. (AP) -Chicago Native rallied late in the stretch to win the $11,500 Candy Spots purse by half a length Friday at Arlington Park.

One Son edged Muckraker for second in the seven-furlong race before a crowd of 40,600.

NFL training camps

• Kuechenberg, 32, has seemed to be at the peak of his career the last two seasons, winning all-pro honors at both guard and tackle. He stunned the Dolphins with a retirement announcement Wednesday, but said Thursday the decision was not irrevocable. He is trying to renegotiate his contract.

- Little, 34, was slated for only spot duty this year, which he had said would be his final season. Little, who played through the pain of several nagging injuries last year, wants an incentive clause added to his contract that would provide additional pay if he
- Negotiations with Gordon, a fifth-year linebacker, are continuing. Gordon played out his option last season and is technically a free agent.

Ram veterans upset — There's a strong possibility that a number of Los Angeles Rams' veterans won't report to the team's training camp today in protest of the rich contract signed by rookie defensive back Johnnie Johnson of Texas.

"It's a humiliating thing," said guard Dennis Harrah. "I've played five years and been in the Pro Bowl twice. I never complain and do everything I'm told. And now I find out I'm making less than half than Johnnie Johnson, who's never played a down. It's just not right.'

It has been reported that Harrah, defensive end Jack Youngblood, defensive tackle Larry Brooks, linebacker Jim Youngblood and defensive back Pat Thomas won't be present when veterans are supposed to report to training camp.

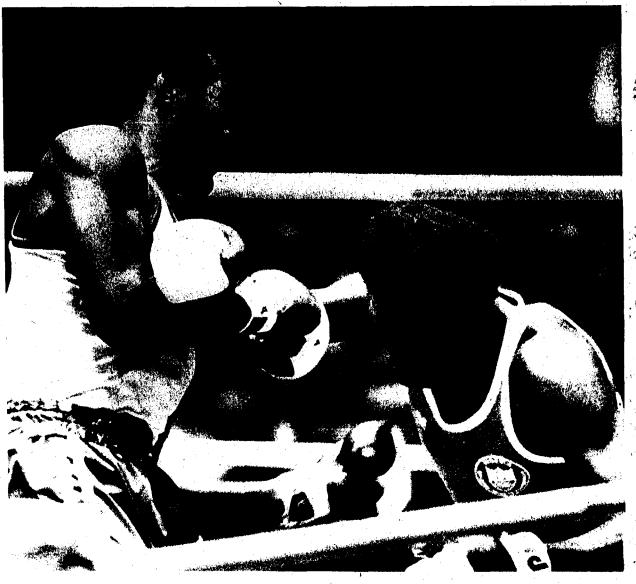

Galbreath pressures Saints — Fullback Tony Galbreath checked into the New Orleans Saints training camp on schedule Friday, but he left open the question of whether he'll play without getting more money. His agent even said he'd retire if he doesn't get any of the things he's asking for.

There have been reports Galbreath would prefer to switch to the more glamorous position of halfback, but he said he is more concerned about getting more money.

Horton leaves Bucs' camp - Offensive guard Greg Horton, his starting status in jeopardy, told friends he wants to be traded and then packed his bags and left the Tampa Bay Buccaneer's camp.

Horton left camp about this time in 1979 but returned one day later. He was upset last year when rookie Greg Roberts was installed at right guard and Horton was shifted to left guard. This time, second-year player Gene Sanders has manned the left guard spot so far in training camp.

U.S. collegians from afar reaping Olympic awards

MOSCOW (AP) — Swimmers from California, Alabama, North Carolina, Indiana and other American campuses are sprinkled liberally throughout the rosters of Western bloc nations at the Moscow Olympics.

And they are winning medals right along with the state-trained East Germans and Soviets.

"Going to college at the University of California was a good choice for me," said Par Arvidsson of Sweden. the gold medal winner in the 100-meter butterfly. "It's hard to combine studying and sports in Sweden. There's no collegiate swimming at all, plus I was looking for adventure in the United States and a chance to learn the language."

The lack of opportunity for getting an education and pursuing a swimming career at the same time is the most common reason given by the British, Australian and Swedish swimmers for going to American colleges.

Duncan Goodhew left North Carolina State last December after three years there to train for the Olympics, a move that helped him win the gold medal in the 100 breaststroke. He said that he could never have gotten an education and become a world-class swimmer at the same time without going to America. "Under the British system, the academic program is set up for three years, and you can't extend that time or take a smaller load" said Goodhew. "So you can't get enough pool time to become a top swimmer.'

"I don't believe the British coaches are jealous about our boys leaving. Our main worry is that they can't handle the American culture," said British swimming Coach Dave Haller. "Goodhew could handle it, but he came back to Britain to train because he didn't want people to say he did well in the Olympics because he is American-trained. "But you can't blame them for leaving because Great Britain doesn't have the facilities or scholarship programs to compare with the United States," Haller said. Martin Smith, freestyler on the British team that won a bronze medal in the 400 medley relay, has attended Arkansas for two years and plans to return and ultimately go to law school. But the butterflyer on the team,

David Lowe, is going back to Britain after stints on the Texas-Arlington and Houston teams for two years. "I want to say in Britain now that

I'm swimming on a level high enough to be on the national team," Lowe said. "And it's time for me to start pursuing a career.' Arvidsson's Swedish teammate, Pelle Holmertz, and Britain's Jimmy Carter, have been on national swimming championship teams at California, a fact that keeps Arvidsson coming back.

"I felt the same pressure at the NCAA championships that I did at the Olympics because we were defending champions (this year) and I felt I had to win both my events for us to repeat," said Arvidsson, who responded with two butterfly victories to help Cal win the title.

Three-fourths of the Australians who snatched the gold medal away from the favored Soviet Union Thurs- then day night in the final of the men's 400meter medley relay were past or future U.S. college students.

Backstroker Mark Kerry went to Indiana and now studies acting while working as a model at Los Angeles; ... breaststroker Peter Evans is heading for Arizona as a freshman next fall, and butterflyer Mark Tonelli was a star at Alabama.

Max Metzker, third in the 1,500 freestyle, will follow Tonelli to Alabama and Graeme Brewer, third in the 200 freestyle, is a future Iowa

"Basically, it's an opportunity to swim without having to earn a living at the same time," said Australian Coach Peter Bowen-Pain of the defecting Aussies.

Richard's condition is 'improved'

HOUSTON (AP) - Houston Astros all-star pitcher J.R. Richard, recovering from surgery to remove a blood clot from his neck, was listed in improved condition by Astros officials Friday after talking with team physician Dr. Harold Breisford.

'The weakness J.R. felt in his left arm and leg has lessened and we are now changing J.R.'s condition from stable to improved," an Astros spokesman said.

Richard was rushed to Methodist Hospital Wednesday after he collapsed during a workout at the Astrodome. Doctors discovered the blood clot in the right side of Richard's neck and removed it in a twohour surgery.

Doctors said earlier Friday Richard's condition remained stable with the weakness on his left side. The symptoms of a stroke still are being considered but Brelsford would not say Richard suffered a

Grand Prix driver killed in crash

HEIDELBERG, West Germany (AP) - Formula One driver Patrick Depailler was killed Friday when his Alfa Romeo hit a guard rail and flipped over during a private testing session at the Hockenheimring race course.

The 35-year-old Frenchman was pronounced dead on arrival at the nearby Heidelberg University Clinic. He was divorced and is survived by one child.

A track spokesman said the cause of the accident probably would not be determined because the car nearly disintegrated in the crash. The spokesman said the racer swerved off the track in the treacherous east curve of the fast road circuit, hit the guard rail, skidded along the top of the rail for several hundred feet and flipped over on its top.

Hockenheimring is the same circuit where racing superstar Jimmy Clark died in a crash in the mid-1970s, and it has been the subject of a number of complaints by drivers about safety hazzards.

"I'm done with the unknown now. It feels good to have this round out of the way, now I can get back to the courses I'm familiar with."

Plautz made the turn in 41 after the shaky start, but birdies on Nos. 12 and 13 helped him finish just four-over.

"I was down on myself and down on the course on the front nine. Several of the pin placements were very strange. Even the Blackhawk players have never seen the pins in the places they were today," Plautz said.

"After the way I started I would have been pleased with a 78, so a 76 sounds really good to me," he said.

Hinners has also gone both rounds without a three-putt green, admitting that he has only missed one putt under at Odana Hills.

Mike Murphy of Blackhawk had the low round of the day, an even-par 72, while Beer moved back into contention with a one-over 73.

"I struck the ball super both days, all I need to do is drop a few putts. I thought it would take a 68 or 69 to get back in the tournament, but now it looks like a 73 will do," said Beer, who won the 1978 title by 14 strokes.

Eight records fall at city swim meet

The second day of the all-City swim meet at the West Side Swim Club saw eight more records broken, including two by Hill Farm's Ann Drolsom. Nine records fell during Thursday's preliminary events.

Drolsom set records in the 13-14 girls' 100-meter freestyle and individual medley events with times of 1 minute, .85 seconds and 1:09.76, respectively.

Other double winners Friday included Jackie Ervin, of the West Side club, who won the 11-12 girls' 100 individual meter and 50 butterfly events; Shorewood's Tom Senn, who took the 11-12 boys' 50 backstroke and 100 individual medley events, and Jeff Whalen, also of Shorewood, who won the 13-14 boys' 100 freestyle and breaststroke events.

All individual event finals and relays will be held today beginning at 9 a.m.

the second on the first of Thomas' homers. The Yanks made it 8-1, with a third-inning run on a single by Cerone, a fielder's choice and a single by Brown. Oscar Gamble's fifth homer of the year made it 9-1, in the fourth.

A two-run homer by Thomas and a solo blast by Don Money in the sixth did little more than pad their individual statistics. It was Money's 15th homer and Thomas' 23rd.

And Molitor is sick of reading about the Brewer stats that show them leading the league in home runs, total bases, slugging percentage, fewest walks and, amazingly, earned run average.

"You look up at that scoreboard and you see we are leading the league in this and that," said Molitor. "Then how come we're 10 games down? "Maybe its talent," said Molitor.

But the Yankees made the big plays. The Brewers didn't and the Brewers' pennant race is over.

Birdie gives Young LPGA Classic lead

WHEELING, W.Va. (AP) — Donna Caponi Young, enjoying her finest season on the Ladies Professional Golfers Association tour, sank a tap-in putt on the 18th hole for a birdie Friday to conclude a four-under-par round of 68 and take a one-shot lead after the first round of the West Virginia Classic.

Mastering the hilly Speidel Golf Course, called one of the toughest on the ladies' tour by several of the leaders. Young leads three other LPGA veterans by a shot. Tied with threeunder-par 69s were Patty Hayes, Sandra Post and Joyce Kazmierski.

Scores began to improve in the afternoon after morning showers and wind gusts ended and sunny skies moved into the area. Fifteen golfers shot even-par 72s or better, including two tour rookies - Patty Sheehan and Brenda Lunsford - playing in their first professional tournament. Sheehan stood two shots off the pace after a first round 70, while Lunsford was three shots back with a one-under 71.

Nature steals Green Bay's thunder

Special to The State Journal

CANTON, Ohio — Nature provided the only excitement Saturday as the Green Bay Packers and San Diego Chargers battled to a 0-0 tie in the annual Hall of Fame game which kicked off the 1980 National Football League pre-season.

The lightning bolts on the sides of the Chargers' helmets and the name of the field which hosted the game, Fawcett Stadium, both became symbolically significant when a fierce thunderstorm swept through Canton and forced termination of the game with 5 minutes, 29 seconds left.

"It was the wise and safe thing to do," said San Diego Coach Don Coryell of the decision to end the game. "Lightning kills people. We never would have practiced in conditions like that."

Had the final 5:29 been played, one team might have won — but that was no certainty. Both had scoring chances and both botched them badly.

Neither team threatened seriously in the first half, but the Chargers, champions of the American Football Conference Western Division last season, moved to the Green Bay threeyard line in the third quarter following an interception by second-year line-backer Cliff Thrift of a Bill Troup pass at the Packers' 46.

The threat ended when Lydell Mitchell, who had gained 26 yards on a run two plays earlier, fumbled and the ball was recovered by Packer strong safety Steve Luke.

Late in the quarter San Diego recovered a fumble by Troup at the Green Bay 30, but could move only nine yards to the 21. On fourth down Rolf Benirschke missed a 39-vard field goal attempt. His kick hit the left upright, but dropped short of the crossbar.

On the next Green Bay series, wide receiver Aundra Thompson took a

By Bill Brophy State Journal Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE - The New York Yankees were opportunists and played like the leaders in the American League East again while the Milwaukee Brewers played like the Not Ready for Prime Time Players Saturday night and continued to fall closer to sixth place.

The combination of the two gave the Yankees their third straight victory over the Brewers, a 5-3 decision that once again left a bad taste in the mouth of a big crowd at County Sta-

The Brewers have put it all together in their big series of the year against the Yankees. On Thursday the bullpen blew a 6-1 lead and the Brewers lost in 11 innings. On Friday the Brewers' starting pitcher gave up seven runs in the first inning and the Yanks blew Milwaukee out.

The latest epiode saw the the Brewers blow an early lead because the defense was porous and gave up five unearned runs. The Brewers, in the midst of their worst slump of the George Bamberger era in Milwaukee, are now 11 games back of the Yankees, who lead second place Baltimore by 7½ games.

yes; but physical errors, no."

By Glenn Miller State Journal Sports Editor

Dave Lien of Odana Hills gained another big day of golfing credibility Saturday when he shot an even-par 72 at Cherokee Golf and Tennis Club to retain a two-stroke lead after the third round of the Men's City Golf Tourna-

If he keeps this up, he wins the tournament and gets his picture in the paper and his name on the record books.

It is not a name that many know.

the city tournament in 1978. "I've never done well," her admitted with nice modesty and a nice smile. "This year and 1978 are the only times I have made the cut.'

But those who follow public links golf say he has been getting better for a number of years and he has had good scores this year at Odana. And Odana is where the final round will be played today, starting at 8 a.m. The leaders go off at 9:15 a.m. The tournament is open to the public and is free.

Lien should sayor his glory before

The best he has ever done is an 11th in he tees off today. His work is cut out for him. In second place going into this final round is Mike Plautz, now of Yahara Hills, a two-time winner of this tournament. Mike Plautz grew up about a block from Odana, so, though he now plays most of his golf at Yahara, Plautz knows the territory.

Lien's 72 gave him 54-hole total of 217, which is one over par for the tournament. Plautz, who also had an even-par 72, stands at 219.

Still in contention, two more strokes back at 221, were Mike Murphy of Blackhawk, who had the day's best round of 71 at Cherokee, and Chuck Hinners of Nakoma, who played flawless golf until he double; bogeyed the 18th hole for a 74.

On the fringe of contention was John Aehl of Nakoma, this newspaper's night city editor, who had a 74 for 223, six shots off.

Lien is 27 and works in the maintenance department at the University of Wisconsin. He is a lifelong Madison resident. He attended East High School, where he played "in the shadow of Harold Harder," now an assistant pro at Nakoma. Lien was a member of Cherokee from 1976 through 1978, but he now does most of his golfing at Odana. He is on the second shift at the University, so he gets to play quite a bit.

Lien is pudgy and paunchy but not fat. He has broad shoulders and hits the ball hard. With the woods, he nearly always starts the ball out right and draws it into the fairway. He is accurate with the woods. "I know I can count on the hook," he said. Saturday, he got off to an awful start with two bogeys at Nos. 1 and 2. But he brought that back to even par, even despite another bogey, with three birdies, two of them on 18-foot putts. Lien putts well all the time. On the second nine he also had two bogeys and two birdies (on putts of 10 and 20 feet), falling to par only because he three-putted the final hole.

The third day of the tournament was dominated by the weather. The morning thunderstorms caused a fourhour delay at the start, with play beginning at noon. There were some sprinkles in early afternoon, but the

Hall of Famers inducted in emotional ceremony

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — The emotion of joining the Pro Football Hall of Fame Saturday proved too much for Bob Lilly. The Dallas Cowboys great broke down and cried twice during his acceptance speech.

• "I'm awful sorry," Lilly told the audience encircling the Shrine's steps after he fought back tears.

Lilly joined Herb Adderley, Jim Otto and David "Deacon" Jones as the latest enductees in the Hall of Fame. pushing the total of immortals enshrined there to 106.

If Adderley, Jones and Otto were moved to tears, they didn't show it.

Lilly, a defensive tackle, first broke when he talked of his father and of former college coach Abe Martin, both of whom are dead.

"This is the toughest part," he warned the audience. Lilly pause to collect himself and the crowd applauded. Still sniffing, Lilly said, "I got all the attention when I was growing up. I appreciate the fact my family continues to love me."

Later, a more composed Lilly said, "All of us are here today for one reason. We played on teams that were winners. To sum it up, I deserve just a be the first Cabinet appointee as Cowboys' Coach Tom Landry presented Lilly and said, "There won't be another Bob Lilly in my lifetime. Not only was he a great football player, but he is one of the finest individuals I have ever known."

"I have to go back to the beginning, and the beginning was God. God is No. 1 for making everything possible," said Adderley, presented by longtime teammate Willie Davis.

"I can't say enough for my teammates," he said. "Without your teammates, you can't make it. Without me, this would be a great class. To be included with these guys, it's more than a pleasure."

Former Los Angeles and Washington coach George Allen introduced Jones, a former defensive end with both his teams.

Jones was known by that title while he was making life miserable for opposing quarterbacks in the National Football League.

Jones recalled that as a Florida youngster, he fought racial bias and was denied the privileges of YMCAs and junior football leagues.

"I declared my own private war against racial prejudices at the time. The student remained true to his vision," said Jones.

Otto, the only all-pro center the American Football League had in its decade, called enshrinement a dream come true.

"Only one person I have to thank, and that's the Good Lord," said the Oakland Raiders' immortal, a native of Wausau, Wis. "I thank Him and I praise Him.'

He thanked his wife for making it possible for him to play in 12 professional all-star and Pro Bowl games. "The first three years was more of a nightmare than a dream. Without my wife, my dream might have fizzled," said Otto, presented by Al Davis, the Raiders managing general partner.

Hearns knocks out Cuevas

DETROIT (AP) - Undefeated Thomas Hearns, nicknamed the "Motor City Hit Man," let loose a furious barrage of punches Saturday night to knock out defending World Boxing Association welterweight champion Pipino Cuevas at 2 minutes, 39 seconds of the second round to claim the

The 21-year-old Hearns, a local favorite, boosted his record to 29-0, including 27 by knockouts.

Midway in the second round, he jolted Cuevas with a hard right and then unleashed a battering barrage. Cuevas came out of it punching, but Hearns landed a left-right combination, backing Cuevas off.

Hearns, using his height advantage, punched Cuevas back and then cooked him with a left and followed with a hard right, as the champion from Mexico City went crashing to the canvas. Hearns stands 6-foot-1 to 5-9 for Cuevas.

Referee Stanley Christodoulou counted to seven and then spread his hands, indicating it was all over.

Cuevas, 23, suffered only his sixth loss against 27 victories. Soothing his damaged reputation was the fact that he will collect $1.4 million for his effort from closed-cicuit television revenue.

Hearns earned $500,000 but now stands in line for a big-money shot against either Sugar Ray Leonard or possibly Roberto Duran, the World Boxing Council welterweight cham-
